

Fastmarkets Dashboard Release Notes

10th December 2022

What's New?

New Features

This release of the Fastmarkets Dashboard includes new functionality and features including:

- New - Changes to displayed start date prices in the Historic Price Table widget and Data table view of the Price Chart widget
- New - Column auto-resizing for certain fields in the Multi Price Table widget
- New – enable export to pdf for London Metal Exchange (LME) FX and London Bullion Market Association (LBMA) from Multi Price Table, Historic Price Table, Single Price Tile and Price Chart widgets
- Bug fix to display valid zero prices when Low-High range is selected in the Single Price Tile widget
- Bug fix to fix the truncated Search tool description

Historic Price Table & Price Chart widget Data Table view - display prices from selected start date

This release will amend the display of historical prices in the Historic Price Table widget and the data table view of the Price Chart widget when selecting Null or Carry Forward Fill Settings. Prior to this change prices and dates would display from the closest published assessment date after the selected start date in the widget. This change will now display blank prices and corresponding dates (Null fill setting) or "carried forward" prices and corresponding dates from the previous published assessment (Carry Forward fill setting) which may be before to the selected start date of the widget.

For example, the below Silicon price is published weekly, every Monday. Publication dates between a selected start date of 5th December and 23rd December 2022 would be 9th, 16th & 23rd.

Date	Mid
23 Dec 2022	3,450.00
16 Dec 2022	3,450.00
09 Dec 2022	3,450.00
02 Dec 2022	3,600.00
25 Nov 2022	3,600.00
18 Nov 2022	3,600.00
11 Nov 2022	3,575.00
04 Nov 2022	3,575.00

Here you can see the publication dates and prices across November and December:

Before this change, selecting a start date of Thursday 5th Dec would have displayed prices from the closest publication date after the 5th which is 9th December, after this change prices are "carried forward" from the previous publication date of 28th November:

Multi Price Table widget column auto-resizing

This release will introduce column auto-resizing to the width of the column header for the Multi Price Table to enable prices and data to be visible and save time manually resizing columns. This release will exclude the fields Description and Short Description to save screen estate. Columns can continue to be manually resized.

Export LME FX & LBMA prices to pdf from Historic Price Table, Price Chart, Multi Price Table and Single Price Tile widgets

This release will provide the functionality to export LME Official FX prices and LBMA gold, silver, platinum and palladium prices from the Historic Price Table, Price Chart, Multi Price Table and Single Price Tile widgets in pdf format. Please note the export will provide the following same fields for export from any of these widgets:

- Symbol – unique identifier of each instrument
- Description – instrument description
- Date – latest date of price publication
- Price – latest published price
- Net Change from previous published price - +/- not yet available
- Monthly Average Assessment Period – month label e.g. Aug 2022
- Monthly Average – monthly average price

Bug Fixes

- This release will resolve a display issue in the Single Price Tile widget for any price where the Low price in a Low-High range is a valid zero price. Previously a valid zero price was not displaying correctly.
- This release will fix an issue where the Global Search tool description is truncated
